The Rev. W. H. Irwin visited Livingston last week end and preached in the Methodist church there.

Next Sunday night the memorial service for the late William Buchanan will be held in the Methodist church to be conducted by Rev. W. H. Irwin.

An accident occurred in the No. 1 mine to J. R. McLeod, whilst he was getting down some top coal with his pick. It came down on his foot. He was taken out of the mine and attended to by Dr. McKenize.

The preacher at the Methodist church on Sunday night last was Mr. Hyslop, of Coleman, who took for his text Matt. chap. 8, verse 1. Mr. Hyslop divided his sermon into two headings, "Discipleship," and "The place of the Cross in our hearts."

The inquest into the death of William Buchanan was held last week. The verdict stated that deceased came to his death accidentally by a fall from roof of No. 2 mine of No. 1 mine, when he was working on April 13th. It was also recommended by the jury as follows: "That we, the jury recommend that there be an amendment to the Coal Mines Act of Alberta that no person holding a fire boss certificate be allowed to fire shots during contract work in a gaseous mine. Furthermore that we, the jury, find that the present system of contract work tends to lead to carelessness on the part of the contractors. Through the negligence of any for the deceased's death, we feel that greater precautions could be taken to safeguard the men from accident." The jury consisted of J. Cunningham (foreman) Wm. Evans, J. J. Walters, J. S. Murray, Thomas Duncan, Harry White and W. H. Cole.

"Our baby cure for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. T. M. Kendrick, Ramona, Ga. "It is the best cough remedy on the market for coughs, colds and croup." For sale by all dealers.

A Bigger, Better Bellevue

Things are booming at Bellevue these days, and several more business places are in course of erection.

The West Canadian Collieries are subdividing about 240 acres and are placing same on the market. Already no less than six live business men, residing in different parts of The Pass, have bargained for suitable sites on which to erect large buildings, in which they intend to conduct several branches of the mercantile trade. More space will be devoted to this matter in a near issue of this journal.

A Race Track Needed

"Death is Cheated"

On Saturday last Blairmore was the scene of not less than three runaways, and levers of the turf have come to the conclusion that Blairmore should have a track where such events as those mentioned may be put on in safety and witnessed by a large number of persons interested in horse racing. The first attraction of this kind was witnessed at 5:20 p.m. when a horse attached to a rig made an attempt to get away from its driver when passing along Victoria street. But although the driver was thrown out of the vehicle he dauntlessly held on to the reins and got control of the animal after the latter had dragged the man nearly a block over queen surface. The doctor attended the wounds and the victim may now be seen on one of our back streets.

The second event of this character took place about 7:30 p.m. when a team of stalwart horses belonging to the West Canadian Collieries and driven by "Scotty" attempted to race along Fifth avenue towards the mine. The driver was thrown out and received slight bruises but the animal was stopped before it had time to get very far. This affair was the first free attraction witnessed by several passengers who had just then gotten off the west-bound "local."

The third and last attraction of this nature occurred at 9:15 p.m. when a team of young horses which had been in town for only a few days and which evidently had not accustomed themselves to our easy going streets, broke away into a fast gallop shortly after leaving Thompson & Co's store with a load of choice groceries to take to the people for Sunday consumption. The animals rushed madly down Victoria street to Eighth avenue to which place they were no doubt attracted by one of Blairmore's again lights which penetrated the darkness. The horses then came over near the Enterprise building where the wagon capired and the contents dumped near the sidewalk. The team followed down Eighth avenue to town. State street where they were finally gotten under control. Driver Patterson deserves credit for the noble British spirit he displayed in staying in the wagon until the two or three passengers were gotten out in safety. If the boys had not left the wagon when they did it is more than likely that the colic would have borne some mother's son to his last resting place early part of this week.

Happenings in and Around Frank

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weir, of Frank, on Monday, April 22nd, a daughter.

A. J. Holmstrom, station agent here, left on Tuesday for Cayley where he will take up a similar position to the one he held at Frank.

The Canadian Coal Consolidated, Limited, have decided to have a number of their houses removed to the new townsite, and are calling for tenders for the work.

Many improvements are being made to the grounds surrounding the Rocky Mountain Sanatorium. The grounds are being nicely graded and trees and shrubs planted.

A. V. Lang's store is being decorated with putrons these days, all of whom are taking advantage of the monster clearing out sale, which apparently will leave his large stock of dry goods and groceries "doomed." Mr. Smith, an experienced and genial salesman, has been engaged for several weeks by Mr. Lang, and his efforts are being fully rewarded.

A. Manuel, proprietor of the Frank hotel, will erect a large bachelors at Blairmore, and plans are being arranged by B. Disney, of Coleman. A splendid site has been secured and the work of construction will shortly commence. The new building will compare favorably with any of the hotels in the neighboring towns, will be fitted with all modern appliances and cost upwards of $20,000.

The Rocky Mountain sanatorium will give a ball on Friday evening of this week. This will be given on the occasion of the opening season 1912 of that institution. A full orchestra will be in attendance and everything possible is being done to make the affair a splendid success. Dancing will commence at 10 o'clock in the spacious dining room which will be suitably decorated for the occasion. Supper will be served at midnight in the large hall in the basement.

Constipation brings many ailments in its train and is the primary cause of much sickness. Keep bowels regular and you will escape many of the ailments which women are subject. Constipation is a very bad thing, but like many simple things it may lead to serious consequences. Nature often needs a little assistance and when Chamberlain's Tablets are given at the first indication, mild distress and suffering may be avoided. Sold by all dealers.

Doyen Perfects

Cancer Cure

Paris, April 24.—In a paper read before the Physiotherapeutic Congress here, Dr. Doyen declared that he was now able to confirm his theory that it was possible to cure cancer without a surgical operation by means of an electric treatment, which he described as "thermo electric coagulation." In all the cases treated, said Dr. Doyen, the cancer was easily removable. They included cancer affections of the skin, lip, tongue, tonsils, and other organs.

Dr. Doyen has been experimenting in this direction since 1901. In his treatment, which in the case of external cancerous affections, necessitates special electrical apparatus, he depends upon the curative value of the penetrating heat produced by an electric current of high frequency and low tension.

The last operation which took place in Montreal occurred on January 5th, 1908, when Mah Hong, the Blairmore Chinese, was hanged at the Barracks for the murder of his brother.

"Miss Nobody From Starland"

With not one dull moment and full of wit and humor, sparkling musical numbers, with gorgeous costumes and wonderful scenic effects, "Miss Nobody From Starland" should prove a more than agreeable offering at the Blairmore Opera House on April 30. This musical comedy is one of the best and most popular of the many notable productions placed before the public by Mori A. Singer. The book and lyrics are by Adams, Hough and Mitchell, all of whom have had a part in previous Singer successes, and the music is the work of prolific Joseph E. Howard, whose agreeable songs are heard all over the world. Other Vail, the clever delineator of the title role, and a widely known favorite will head a large cast of well known principals.

A Story Where Truth Proves Stranger Than Fiction

By AGNES G. BROGAN

The big westerner was evidently not enjoying his journey. He appeared to be possessed of a hunger for human companionship, and after several unsuccessful attempts at conversation with fellow passengers in the smoker he stepped out on to the observation platform and stood, drawing long breaths of fresh air, as though the proximity of the trees along the way had stifled him. Then, turning abruptly, he entered the car. His eyes still not absorbed in their own affairs as his towering figure passed along the side, the train conductor took him to his seat. The westerner sank into his seat with a glance full of a girl who sat opposite. He had not noticed her before. Her face and her expression gave way to one of frank pleasure as he gazed admiringly into her charming upturned face.

There was an indefinable air of joyousness about the girl. She seemed to be the corner of her lips and twinkled in her laughing eyes. She regarded the westerner with a keen interest for a moment, then returned to her survey of the ever changing country. But to the girl's surprise, the westerner had changed the dreary atmosphere about him with a breath from the west, with a smile. She watched the girl with unaffected delight in the new surroundings. She was possessed of a sympathetic desire to enjoy with this passing passenger and her long hair, which she wore in a wave reaching lands of his own border country and the deep purple of the sky, which looked so strange in the world around him, was very sure that his most manly to a man to give him all this and start a new life. The westerner arose and, with a distant land across a strange, new people.

It was indeed a great honor to be numbered among the company's stockholders and to be named as a representative in the southern states and toward which he was traveling. The westerner looked at the girl and stared gloomily out of the window. The train would be running on this track, calling up the country until a certain station would be called; then the girl opposite would be called; and she would pass out of his life.

"And she was so different—so beautiful," he said. "I had never seen her like that before."

"If you please," said a voice, a new voice, "may I take your name for a few moments? I would like to see that picture."

"Take it," he answered heartily. "Well, I rather guess you can't. You must care for the picture, though," he added.

"No," the girl smiled up at him. "It's such a poor thing."

"Poor?" he exclaimed disapprovingly. "Talk of pictures! Here's where you get it! I wonder the magazine about Henry Hobb's picture. This thing is the best of the west. It's a picture of a man who would not let himself be interested any if it could."

"Indeed?" The girl's attention in the soft voice invited further information, and the westerner, awaiting uneasily with the car, turned his head to the seat at her side.

"Yes," he continued. "It's a very poor picture, but it's the only one I have. I acquired the first wife or two out, fell in love the second and have married a few more. I'm now married to a girl named Mary. She's a very nice girl, but she's not the one I want. I want a girl who will marry me in this short space of time, while the girl who would accept would be worth asking unless, of course," he added laughingly, "they're both just plain folks."

"The girl joined in his laugh merrily. "Well," she said, "perhaps they are. But the illustration is beautiful, don't you think?" She was examining it intently.

"Why?" Boynton exclaimed. "It might be a picture of this very car. It is in the rear seat, and it's a very small and dark and happy looking. Here's a photograph."

His companion crossed the man's face. "My name has always been in the rear seat," he said. "I'm afraid I'm myself might be a little different, but I'm not a very good one."

"The girl's eyes widened. "From the rear seat?" she asked. "The girl's eyes widened. "From the rear seat?" she asked. "The girl's eyes widened. "From the rear seat?" she asked.

"Oh, I would love to have you tell me it means to live out there!" she said. "With an almost royal treatment, he complied with her request, and the train ran out often on the train and in the way. The train came to a very good stop presently, with much ruckus of wheels and a rattling of wheels. The westerner looked on in the midst of an exciting tale to investigate the cause. He returned to his seat with a heavy nod to the girl.

"Just a little and side about," he explained. "You're the girl who's been a four or so while they clear the tracks."

"We shall be very late in reaching our destination. I am going to sleep. You must not fail to say my name."

He said. "No, the big westerner whirled, and the spring lines of his face softened into a smile.

Happenings in and Around Blairmore

Mrs. Dunnen, of Medicine Hat, is amongst the visitors in town this week.

Walter Knight and C. F. Dunnen were in town on Saturday from Lundbreck.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons came up from Pasmaring on Friday evening and returned east the following morning.

That popular play, "Miss No-body from Starland," will appear at the opera house here on Tuesday evening next.

Mrs. J. Johnson and Mrs. F. Leston were amongst the Blairmore visitors from Melford the first of this week.

Mr. J. R. Ruter and Mrs. Smith, both of Lethbridge, came to Blairmore on Friday and remained here until Monday morning when they returned home.

A local company are making plans for the erection of a fine hotel for the town of Maple Lake. Particulars will be announced later.

The "Three Weeks" was greeted at the opera house here, last night, by a fairly large audience—mostly men. The show was relative to some phases of life in the underworld of the large as well as many of the smaller cities, but nothing of a sensational nature was introduced.

W. A. Beale and the firm of Slick & Simpson are going to erect a fire-proof cement partition on lots 7 and 8, in block 2. This will serve to protect part of the town from the ravages of fire should flames from any of the western burghs threaten to devastate "The El Dorado of the Golden West."

The subject at the Odd Fellows Anniversary service which will be held in the Baptist church on Sunday afternoon next and which will be conducted by Rev. A. S. Todd, B.D., will be "Fraternity." The service will commence at 3 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend.

The big auction sale conducted by J. M. Carter on Wednesday of last week was largely attended. A large quantity of furniture, jewelry, wagons, horses and miscellaneous were disposed of. An amateur real estate peddler who no doubt means to shortly do honor to his country and justice to his self, purchased an ancient framed relic of the first King of Judah.

Three young men appeared in police court on Monday morning. They were charged with being drunk and disorderly at one of the local hotels on Saturday last. They pleaded guilty to the charge and each paid a fine of $2 and $2.50 costs, thus swelling the exchequer to the tune of $22.00. They declared that they would lead a better life and that the court would get no more money from them.

Since the fire of last month which carried death and destruction in its wake, T. Edie, one of Blairmore's legal lights, has had a cement wall added to the west side of his block, thus defying the fiery elements. The roof of some building is being made fire-proof, so flames may not reach the roof but those inside will chafe at the fire. (Copyright.) The carpenters are busy at the wood work and Mr. Edie expects to have these new premises ready for occupancy the early part of next month.

The telegraphists' hall which was given in the opera house, on Friday evening last, was the greatest event of its kind given here this season. There were over three hundred persons in attendance. A midnight supper was served at the Blairmore hotel and the Palace cafe and a tired and hungry crowd from the local area and the surrounding villages. People were there from far and near. Special cars brought in telegraphists and other men with their wives and sweet-

The C.P.R. passenger service throughout this part of the country is unique and all the trains are arriving on schedule time.

The recent fires in this neighborhood have taught many the necessity of better protection from the fiery elements, and we would suggest that the storekeepers and all public buildings have installed in a convenient and conspicuous place a 2-inch standpipe and have attached thereto sufficient 14-inch hose, with a 4-inch nozzle, to reach to any part of the building so that in case of fire, the hose should be a fire break out in the building. If this is installed the property owners will find that the underwriters will make a liberal reduction in the insurance rates.

The owner will also have the "one third risk," which he must of necessity carry, better protected from loss.

It is said on pretty good authority that liquor selling is conducted every day of the week and every hour of the day in some of the houses on the hill between Blairmore and Frank, but a raid made thereon only once in every three or four months. The landlady appears in court, pleads guilty and pays a fine. She goes away from court and commits the same offence immediately and is permitted to continue doing so for another three or four months when she will be called upon to pay another fine. It is contempt of court to criticize any action of that tribunal, but if what has been pointed out to those violators of the liquor ordinance is law, we would like to ask: Is it justice? Why not prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors there entirely, and if the inmates want to conduct their nefarious work let them go elsewhere.

Hearts, and it was the "wee wee" hours of Saturday morning before the happy gathering broke up leaving behind them the splendidly decorated hall room with all its attractions and arrangements. We are sorry that for want of space we are unable to even attempt to describe the large number of beautiful gowns worn on this occasion. We are sorry if we have to disappoint any lady on any occasion whatever, but we hope that they will forgive us for this our very first offense.

On Sunday next Blairmore Lodge, No. 68, I.O.O.F., will celebrate the 98th anniversary of Oddfellowship. The members will meet at their hall on Victoria street at 2 p.m. from whence after preliminary exercises the society, headed by the Bellevue brass band, will parade to the Central Baptist church where the Rev. A. S. Todd, B.D., will deliver an address suitable to the occasion.

After service the procession will proceed down State street to Sixth avenue, thence back by way of Victoria street to their hall, where luncheon will be served. A general invitation is extended to Rebekahs and visiting brethren.

At about 10 o'clock on Saturday night last while the boxing match was in the local arena the couple of young men and cowardly wretches decided to start an open-air melee. So, determined to carry out their purpose, they repaired to the suspension bridge which spans the Old Man river at Seventh avenue and near Water street, where they laid down in their laid and patiently waited for one of Coleman's youngsters who finds an irresistibly magnetic power in one of Blairmore's fair daughters.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the visitor from the west started on his homeward journey and just after crossing that notable bridge he was met by two strange men who suddenly attacked the Coleman man and "wounded him and departed leaving him half-dead." The police were soon notified and a search was made but so far those brigands have succeeded in evading the vigilant eyes of the guardians of the peace and have not been detected by the far-reaching extent of the bounds engendered to bring those underbreds to bay or within the scope of British justice.

Ratepayers Repudiate Action of the Council

A meeting of the ratepayers of the town of Blairmore was held in the third hall on Monday evening last. There were twenty-eight persons present, and considerable time was taken up in discussing some municipal affairs.

E. M. Brice was appointed chairman, and after the meeting had been called to order the object of the gathering was made plain.

H. E. Lyon stated that the West Canadian Colonies had offered the town of Blairmore half the value of $50,000. This land included a site for the fire hall and five acres for a nuisance ground.

J. Menard, the newly appointed manager for the West Canadian Colonies, said that when representatives of the town council looked for a site for a fire hall the West Canadian Colonies were not approached regarding the matter. The plea asked for the lots which were recommended by the council, was $12,000. This expense the local council were willing to save the town by giving a free site for fire hall and a large parcel of land for a nuisance ground. The fire hall site consisted of two corner lots on Victoria street and east of the telephone office. Other parties offered land at $500 per acre for nuisance ground.

W. C. G. offered five acres near the mine for nothing.

D. A. Sinclair wanted to enquire some statements made by the Mayor at recent council meetings, regarding the ownership of lots agreed by the council as being suitable places for fire hall but the speaker was ruled out of order by the chairman.

W. C. G. declared it was his intention to make later.

D. C. Drain wanted to see the fire hall located in or near the centre of the business section. He believed that the offer made by the West Canadian Colonies was a generous one but the speaker did not consider that the offer was sufficient inducement to have the fire hall erected on the lot in the heart of the business community.

H. E. Lyon took the floor again and made a very neat and sensible speech. He had been informed that considerable gossip had been going on on the streets and that he had been treated unfairly regarding his stand on the fire hall site question. He favored the proposition made by the West Canadian Colonies because he believed that he would be thus saving the town money.

A free site would mean a saving of $1,500 to spend on equipment. He had been elected by the ratepayers to serve the latter's interests and the speaker declared that he intended to carry out the wish of the people.

O. J. Pegg favored placing the fire hall in the centre of the business section. He would be the greatest danger of losses caused by fire.

Several others spoke among whom were L. Dutil, J. G. Smith, Captain Beale, J. R. Smith, L. Gale and D. G. Vincent. The latter wanted to get the names of those "who ran the town to debt," but evidently that vote was not available.

It was moved by J. Menard and seconded by F. E. Hinds that "we, the ratepayers, by a vote accept the lots for fire hall purposes and the ground located south of the town for nuisance ground offered free of charge by the West Canadian Colonies; that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the mayor and council of the town of Blairmore with the request that they carry out the will of the electors in regard to the property referred to." Twenty-two votes in favor of the foregoing resolution and only two votes were registered against it. Quite a number of ratepayers left the building as the vote was being taken.

Children and Good Roads

It is pleasing to learn from the officers of the Canadian Highway Association that the children through out Canada are taking a keen interest in the near competition on "What Good Roads Mean to Canada" and that from all parts of the Dominion papers are being forwarded to the headquarters of the association at New Westminster, B. C.

As an encouragement to the children to busy themselves in the preparation of these essays the president of the Canadian Highway Association, Mr. W. J. Kerr, is offering valuable gold, silver and silver gilt medals, and also a souvenir silver pin to all competitors whose paper attains a certain standard of merit.

What it should not be necessary for this incentive to interest the young people of Canada in Good Roads, and their relation to the well-being of the country, the fact remains that this is in other things, some inducement is often necessary in order to awaken the younger generation to the economic needs of this road race.

Good Roads, as everyone will admit, are badly needed in Canada at the present time, but it is only when the people at large are ready to demand this—not merely to request it, that we can expect the authorities, whether local, municipal, provincial or federal to act on this matter in anything like a large scale. The aim and purpose of the Canadian Highway Association, as is well known, is to establish a Transcontinental road that will reach from Halifax, N. S., to Alberta, B. C. and while it is not the intention of this organization to do more than educate the public and act in an unofficial advisory capacity, it is yet doing much good work in this cause and will be largely instrumental in getting this Highway, four thousand miles long, completed within a few years.

We in this district must do our share of this work, and it behooves the Good Roads advocates of The Pass to bestir themselves and lend all the assistance they can to the officers of the Canadian Highway Association in the good work they are doing for Canada.

Boxing Match a Draw

The boxing exhibition given in the Blairmore opera house on Saturday night last attracted a full house. The three round preliminary between "Young" Randall and "Hurricane" Gallagher resulted in a draw. The main bout was put on at 10.30, both Marshall and Morris appearing in excellent trim. Fred Raynor was chosen as referee and performed his duties satisfactorily to all. Meers, W. Light and Levitt acted as judges and J. Burke as timekeeper. The first, second, third, fourth and fifth rounds were very evenly fought. Marshall did some excellent work in the sixth round, which round was given in his favor. In the seventh several effective uppercuts were recorded in Marshall's favor, while Morris dealt several swift punches at his opponent's ribs. This round was declared equal. The eighth and ninth rounds were not creative of much excitement, but both started out with a determination to have the honor of wearing the middleweight championship belt, and all through this round began to raise doubt as to who would be the champion of the bout. Marshall got in several heavy blows at Morris' face and chest, as well as a good stiffener to the back of the neck. In a clinch which followed, Morris well retaliated over Marshall's ribs. This round was given in Marshall's favor. The next three rounds were evenly contested and the judges decided to award equal honors in all three. In the fourteenth both started out with a determination to have the honor of wearing the middleweight championship belt, and all through this round was well fought. Marshall dealt many well-directed blows at Morris' neck and ribs with apparent weakening effect, but towards the finish Morris seemed to survive and mount up in a masterly manner over his opponent. A whole shower of effective punches found way through the defence, but the round terminated in Marshall's favor. The last round was fast fought and, however, was even. From start to finish neither of the combatants was put to the floor, and the match right through was the cleanest and most interesting ever witnessed here. Morris was in the very best of trim; but Marshall was suffering from a broken ear, which injury had been inflicted during previous training. This somewhat handicapped Marshall and prevented him from displaying all the new science punched into him by his trainer, James Burrows. At the conclusion the large audience cheered the combatants, while the judges were preparing to give their decision. The bout was declared a draw, while Morris was declared winner on points. It is expected that several similar bouts will be arranged for the near future. Interest in boxing is expanding, and amongst the audience were noticed the faces of several housewives—evidently taking pointers to assist them in exercising their generalship over the poor "hubby" at home.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY FOR LIVE INVESTORS

Lake City

Is the name of the Western Terminal Point of the proposed Crow's Nest Pass Electric Railway and is already tapped by the Pass line of the C. P. R., while the G. N. R. has already approached to within a few score of miles and must eventually pass through this admirably located town.

Lake City

Is located by the shore of Crow's Nest Lake, only a few miles east of the provincial boundary between Alberta and British Columbia, and just north of the International line. In reality, it is at the top of Canada, where the majestic Rockies tower in serene magnificence over great chasms and numerous fjords, reflecting their presence on the waters of this beautiful lake. Here also are afforded the very best tracks for the daring mountain climber and for hunters who desire to outlive the quiet ways of the Rocky Mountain goat, sheep, deer or elk, which are the monarchy thereon. In close proximity are numerous timber, mineral and fuel resources, development of which is now in its initial stages. These resources include gold, quartz, coal, iron and pulp wood. Crow's Nest Lake has long been looked upon with promise as an admirable location for health and tourist resorts, and but now this promise is being realized. Plans for hotels, etc. are being arranged, as well as boat houses, and the most modern pleasure yachts will soon glide over the surface of this beautiful lake.

But a few weeks ago lots were placed on the market, and the agents have had their hands full attending to purchasers. Prices run from $150 up. For further particulars apply to the agents.

The Hotel Business in Blairmore
Increases with the Population and Every Effort Being Made to Cope with the Situation.

The future in store for Blairmore has led Messrs. Slick & Simpson, the proprietors of the Alberta hotel, to take steps towards the enlargement of their hostelry and to prepare themselves for the business which must necessarily come their way. With this end in view, they have decided to renovate the present structure and to make a large addition thereto. Part of the old building is being hauled back about seventy feet and a new addition, 70 feet long, 25 feet wide and with two stories, will be erected on the corner of Fifth avenue and Victoria street. The ground floor of this new addition will be used as a bar room and barber shop while the upstairs will be made into bedrooms furnished with private bath and fitted up in the very latest style.

An addition will also be made to the western portion of the present building. The office will be enlarged and the dining room will be changed to the north-west corner. Twenty-two bedrooms in all will be added and when completed the Alberta will have a first-class appearance and will be classed as one of the best hotels in this district.

Thomas Cyr has the contract for moving the old part, and tenders for the erection of the new addition are now being sought. It is the intention of the owners to have all improvements completed by July. The owners in building the new addition are so arranging the construction as to permit them to carry out their intentions of putting up a $800,000 brick structure in the course of the next two years when the business of this town is sure to demand such a public house.

The New Sidewalk Attractions Night Travellers

The West Canadian Collieries have just about completed laying the sidewalk along the main street on their property, at the west end of Blairmore, to the corner of Fourth avenue and Victoria street, a distance of over a quarter of a mile, and many cheerful couples have already taken walks in that direction during the night, besides the innumerable crowds whose duties call them in that direction during the day. This sidewalk is quite an improvement to that part of the town and it is gratifying to note the efforts displayed by the West Canadian Collieries in beautifying this place and in doing their share towards making Blairmore the most up-to-date town in the whole of Southern Alberta. The town council have agreed to put in the crossing, and this will be proceeded with immediately. We would like to suggest that the town council of Coleman, in now asked to lay a sidewalk to connect with the one at the extreme west end of Blairmore.

The Rocky Mountain Cement Co.
Making Great Effort to Meet the Growing Demand for Their Product.

The Rocky Mountain Cement Company have almost completed the installation of considerable machinery which arrived some time ago so as to place them in a better position to supply the growing demand for their product which is considered by the builders with whom we have come in contact, as being second to none manufactured on this continent. The fire of last Saturday morning has somewhat interfered with the work of installing the new machinery but a representative of this journal was assured by the general manager, Mr. C. J. Fogg, that the machinery would be installed and the plant in operation again early in May.

The additional machinery which is being installed, as the already large and well-equipped cement plant consists of a new rotary kiln, 100 feet in length and eight feet in diameter; a complete set of elevators, conveyors and all accessories connected with the kiln; a complete and new battery and pulverizer for the finished grinding department, and several smaller pieces of new and heavy machinery.

When the Rocky Mountain Cement Company put their Blairmore plant in operation again the capacity will have increased from 400 to 1,000 barrels of cement per day, and then this town will have one of the largest and best equipped cement mills to be found in this part of the country.

Easy Money for the Exchequer

The slummers' bench at the court room was occupied on Monday afternoon last by eight females from the tenderloin district. Justice Lyon presided. The proceedings were very quiet except at times when the jingling of silver dollars or the rattling of ten dollar bills disturbed the silence which had become monotonous. Lila Evans, Rita Normand, Alley Huski, Lena Paul, Orlis Langston and L. Aycock were up on a charge of being immoral at a house of ill-fame. They pleaded guilty and each one was fined $10 and $3 costs. Lottie Wilson and Hannah Yawaskita were charged with having sold intoxicating liquors without a license. They declined themselves being immoral at a house of ill-fame. The girls were well stocked with money, and when Lottie was called upon to settle the claim the court had against her she produced a roll of bills that would stagger a Forty-niner.
